MAY 2, 1984

Scott Weiner, Executive Director of the New Jersey Election Law Enforcement Commission, has announced his resignation from his Commission position in order to join the staff of United States Senator Frank Lautenberg's activities in the State of New Jersey.

Mr. Weiner's resignation will take place in early June 1984. In the interim he will be participating in overseeing the transition of administrative activity for the Commission. Responsibility for enforcement activity has been assigned to Assistant Executive Director William R. Schmidt.

In announcing his resignation Mr. Weiner stated, "My tenure as the Commission's executive director has been personally and professionally rewarding. I was proud to have had the opportunity to serve with the Commission and to participate in a policy area of such importance to the State. Moreover, I am honored by the confidence which has been expressed by Senator Lautenberg and am looking forward to continuing my service to the people of the State of New Jersey."

Chairman Andrew C. Axtell stated, "I know I speak for all of the Commission members and staff when I say that we are sorry to see Scott leave. Scott has been a very effective director who has made an invaluable contribution to the State."
